There is fierce opposition to the establishment of postal savings banks in this country, and it is of such a character as to command attention and is very likely to cause delay of legislation upon the matter. Whether it is delayed or not, the matter is assuming a shape which gives promise of larger privileges to the thrifty classes and better faws for the protection of their surplus earnings when on deposit. The Chicago News calls attention to the fact that the bankers in convention there favor better banking facilities for the whole country and it says "through the bankers' opposition two plans have come to the surface for supplying this lack without the establishment of postal de positories. One is to secure in the many western and southern states savings-bank laws similar to the laws of New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The other is to get authority for the national banks

THE COLOR LINE.

The Richmond, Va., Times-Despatch has concluded that the color line is as world-wide as the lines of latitude and longitude on this hemisphere. The latest controversy is concerning the of Commander Peary in sending back his white associates and taking his negro cook with him, the fact not ing to be apparent that Peary, as a West Point trained officer, might naturally think that he needed a valet or a cook on top of the earth more than he needed a white companion and then a subordinate would not attempt to claim a share of the fame, for late events show that Commander Peary is very jealous of his fame.

The Times-Despatch says concerning this: The admission of a negro where explorers' etiquette, it seems, barred any white companion, is the clearest proof possible of the great gulf fixed. From it has sprung a second polar war. Captain Bartlett's friends, we honored with a place nearest the order. casian, and not a member of an inferlor race. If the is a spot on the inhabited globe that that has not yet felt it-just as a we suppose that it must be some-where in Darkest Africa."

THE PLAIN LITTLE POST CARD The plain little postal card at the end of forty years' use perks up as a most profitable thing for the govern-It started slowly at first and in the early years looked very much but it took at last, and now the num er used annually averages over 240 to the family.

It is gratifying to learn that the government promises that the post cards of the future shall be stronger, with a better surface for writing up on with pen and ink, than the cheap cards now in use. At the same time which is of considerable consequence o the government in its effort to make come somewhere near meeting. When to this the private postal cards and the picture postal cards and the motto postal cards sent out are added, it all the rage. It may be in the way of other mail-matter-it may be ruled as secondary stuff, but it doesn't increase the deficit, for it makes a handsome profit for the department.

THE WAY OF SUCCESS.

The municipal fair is the thing with many Massachusetts citles. Brockton when bread and butter has England for the excellence of its exthis winter. The Times says: the fair is such a marked success is ter-bread except for the children of treasury. Two things tell terribly millionaires and profligates. And what against the success of a fair-leaky will the rest of the country's children buildings, a poor race track and poorly kept grounds. The old adage: "The way to make money is to spend money," is just as applicable to fairs as to any other kind of business.

Commander Peary's latest resolve to abide his time in silence came too late, but it is a good resolution, just the same.

Attention is called to the fact that Wall street does not mourn long, but cheers up and orders the boys to 'shuffle the cards."

Taft appears to be hungry to meet the people of the west and to answer some of those questions they have framed up for him,

Happy thought for today: The man who sees too much is always having trouble, as well as the woman who knows too little.

If some kind friend he would have needed had only advised Commander Peary before, how much better would have been for him.

Shortage of Butter. Mr. Editor: You refer in your paper on Sept. 4th, to the wealthy spec per on Sept. 4th, to the wealthy speculators that have cornered the butter market, especially to the combine in Omaha that have 50,000 pounds in cold storage ready to put the marker to 50 cents later on. The following figures given out by the 32 associated warehouses Sept. 1st. 1999 of the amount of butter in storage on that date compared with 1908 might be valuable information.

Would End Fearful Suffering. IN DESPAIR: CURED BY CUTICURA

Torturing Humor - Hoped Death

"Terrible eczema broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores and looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony seemed more than I could bear. My diothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh making the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. I did not think I could live and wanted death to end my frightful sufferings. But oh! what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me real sleep. In a short time I was completely cured by the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. William Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. The Nolan Verdict.

The acquittal of Mr. Nolan, the Westfield farmer, who shot a fruit thief on his place a short time sgo, by the coroner's jury here yesterday will a meet with popular approval. There was little doubt in the mind of the public that the shooting was accidental and that Mr. Nolan was fully justified in the use of firearms in the case. The provocation to the farmers by reason of the indiscriminate stealing of fruit and vegetables is great, and while the reckless use of the shotgun would be inexcusable it is generally recognized that it is the only effective check on this wilful purioning of property. The case may serve a good purpose as a warning to similar actions by thleves in the future.
